BUSINESS

Cathryn Lloyd is Principal of Maverick Minds a creative experiential learning and professional development consultancy. Cathryn draws on a wide range of methodologies for working with groups of people. In particular she uses 'artful and arts-based' processes as a catalyst for inquiry, dialogue, action and reflection. She works with groups of people in organisations on creativity, innovation, collaboration, team development, change, leadership and conflict.

Cathryn is delighted that Lynne has asked her to participate in Seniors Week. "One of the things I love to do is work with groups of people to build relationships, networks and a sense of community. I look forward to working with those who will be there on August 19th as we spend an hour or so getting to know each other in a fun and creative way. Hopefully we leave the day having created a few new friendships and a stronger sense of community".
