

Artful Inquiry

Discover and Imagine

New Possibilities

for Business and People

where art and business meet

Maverick Minds is a creative experiential learning and development consultancy. The intersections – where art and business meet - offer a unique learning experience. The facilitated arts-based interventions, used practically and metaphorically in the workshops, act as a catalyst for dialogue, reflection, insight, and change.

Artful Inquiry allows individuals, groups and organisations to discover, imagine and strategically explore new possibilities through:

- Action and reflection
- Self awareness
- Improvisation
- Being solution-oriented
- Playing with ambiguity
- Thoughtful risk-taking
- The senses – perception/intuition/feeling
- Imaginative, reflective and critical thinking
- Diversity/different perspectives
- Conflict to creativity

Workshops are designed to build capacity and meet the needs of the individual, group and organisation. A creative approach enhances:

- Professional artistry and practice
- Relationships – communication and collaboration
- Information and knowledge exchange
- Decision-making, idea generation and brainstorming
- Organisational culture

Arts-based and artful interventions include:

- Visual exploration – the inspiration and power of images
- Design thinking – creative ways to work
- Dialogue/Stories – creative conversations

Maverick Minds designs and delivers bespoke workshops for the public and private sector, events, retreats and conferences. Our workshops fit into existing learning and development programs.

What people say about Maverick Minds...

"The workshop facilitated by Maverick Minds helped me to focus on the inner work of leadership. The exercises were simple yet penetrating and directly applicable to my work in leadership."
Director, Queensland Leadership Program, Benevolent Society.

"I was delighted in the responsiveness in the group and they learnt to trust themselves and open their hearts. I see a broad range of application in the workplace." Senior Manager OD&L, Ernst and Young

"The experience has motivated and focused us as a team. It provided a great foundation for us to consider our work in a practical and creative way." Queensland Water Commission
