

“Who’s Really Running Your Business?”
Tamara Simon – aka The Detail Devil

Want to meet the Devil? The Detail Devil that is!

More about Tamara .....

Tamara Simon – aka The Detail Devil from Take Another Look

Since 2002, Tamara Simon has been helping businesses capture the knowledge in the heads of their owners and/or team so it is more profitable and simpler which in turn gives the owners back their life through the gift of time!

She has given a new lease in life and motivation to many businesses by just doing what she does best. Leaving you time to do what you do best!

She finds the little gems in your business and by having her on your side is like having another member in your business, but for minimal investment.

As Founder of Take Another Look, she has been providing businesses with simple and practical solutions which

- ☆ reduce duplication and rework
- ☆ capture the knowledge of the business which ultimately
- ☆ increases productivity and profits.

With a background in change management, organisational development and training, Tamara has over 13 years experience in business capability across private, public and not-for-profit organisations. She has spoken at international and state business conferences as well as presenting her survival tips to many teachers and students. Her articles have been published in many association/network magazines including Women’s Network Australia, Building Designer’s Association of Qld and Master Builders Qld.